Permanent Jewelry Release & Waiver

Please read everything below, fill it out, and sign before your appointment. It's quick, it's plain language, and it makes sure we're both on the same page before anything gets welded.

What You're Agreeing To

By signing below, I confirm that I understand and agree to all of the following:

- It's welded on. Permanent jewelry is welded (soldered) closed directly on the body. There is no clasp. It is semi-permanent and can only be removed by cutting the chain at the weld ring. With normal care it is made to be worn continuously, but no chain is indestructible.
- Small risks exist. The welding process uses a tiny, quick spark. There is a small risk of a minor burn, pinching, or skin irritation during application. My provider will take every reasonable precaution, and I will follow her instructions during the appointment (including staying still during the weld).
- I'll speak up about my health. I have disclosed, or will disclose before my appointment, anything relevant to my safety, including: metal allergies (including nickel sensitivity); skin conditions, open cuts, rashes, or irritation where the jewelry will sit; a pacemaker, ICD, or other implanted or worn medical device; and any pregnancy-related swelling that could affect fit. If I'm not sure whether something matters, I'll ask before we start.
- Medical procedures are on me to flag. Some medical procedures and imaging (including MRIs) may require permanent jewelry to be removed. It is my responsibility to tell my medical providers that I wear permanent jewelry, and to have the piece cut off beforehand if required. Removal takes seconds, and the chain can be re-welded afterward.

- After the appointment, it's mine to love and look after. She's The Vibe is not liable for loss of, or damage to, my jewelry after my appointment, including chains that snag, stretch, or break through everyday wear, accidents, or failure to follow the aftercare sheet. (That said — save your chain. Re-welds are free within 60 days if the weld itself pops, and $15 after that.)

Deposit & Appointment Terms

- A deposit is required to book: $25 for Standards pieces and $75 for Custom Elite pieces. Your deposit is credited toward the total price of your piece.
- Your deposit is what lets me order your chain and materials. For custom pieces, once materials have been ordered, the custom deposit is non-refundable — those materials were bought specifically for you. The finished piece is still yours at your appointment.
- Travel: Travel is included within 30 miles of Silverado (covering most of Orange County). Beyond 30 miles, a travel fee applies — it starts at $20 and scales with distance, and will always be confirmed with you before your appointment. No surprises.
- Final quotes are confirmed before your appointment, before anything is welded.

For Clients Under 18

Kids' pieces are available with a parent or legal guardian present. The parent or guardian must sign below on the minor's behalf, and the child must be able to sit still for the quick weld.

Photo Consent (Optional — Your Choice)

I love showing off finished pieces (hands, wrists, and ankles only — never faces without a separate conversation). This is totally optional and does not affect your appointment either way.

☐ YES — you may photograph my finished piece(s) and use the photos on She's The Vibe social media, website, and marketing.

☐ NO — please don't photograph or post my piece(s).
